

FOR GROWTH & GOOD.

PRESENTS:

WE STAND. WE LEAD.

Youth Leadership Summits
YEG 2017

Summit speakers from all over the world will come together to share stories, lessons and next steps to help you start leading in your own way.

The Summit will provide you with inspirational lessons and insight on Personal Leadership, Local Leadership and Global Leadership. You will have the opportunity to ask introspective questions, interact with peers and challenge yourself so you can discover your purpose and leave with a clear vision for your future.

Lunch simulation exercises, 'day in the life' activities, DJ dance breaks, and amazing stories that will inspire and engage you in your personal leadership journey.

SPEAKERS

Gracie Schram—Global Leadership

Gracie Schram is an 18-year-old singer, songwriter & philanthropist whose rustic indie-pop sound is captivating listeners and changing the lives of children in poverty around the world. She has given a portion of the proceeds from her music to humanitarian causes in Africa, Haiti and Colombia, amounting to more than $40,000 to date. Schram's goal has been to change the world through the power of music.

Tyler Wayne—Personal Leadership

Tyler Wayne is on a mission to bend the future through leadership. He is President of IN.FORM, where he works to drive inspired change, and he is a co-founder of YoungLeaders.World. He speaks around the world, ranging from stadium keynotes, to lectures at world leading universities, to close-door strategy sessions with high powered boards.

Jesse Lipscombe—Local Leadership

Jesse has been a highly successful and motivated winner from an early beginning. Being a motivational speaker, film actor, entrepreneur, professional singer or athlete have prepared him for one of his biggest challenges yet; leading a crusade to end racism in the Capital region.

Jeremy Courtney—Leading Change

Jeremy Courtney is CEO of Preemptive Love Coalition (PLC), a peacemaking organization providing lifesaving surgery, relief, and development in Iraq, Libya, and other areas of polarizing conflict. He is the bestselling author of Preemptive Love: Pursuing Peace One Heart at a Time. In the midst of death threats, jail, bombings, and incredible hospitality, Preemptive Love goes where others won't go, to love the people others won't love.
